

WW1 Royal Artillery Dress Buttons & Badges

£195

Description

Framed set of WW1 Royal Artillery dress buttons and badges with cap badge by Lambourne of Birmingham for a Second Lieutenant

The Royal Artillery, established in 1716, is a key branch of the British Army specialising in the use of artillery. Responsible for operating and maintaining various artillery systems, it has a storied history of providing firepower and support in numerous conflicts.