

Doulton stoneware jug celebrating Queen Victoria's golden jubilee

£45

Description

Doulton stoneware jug celebrating Queen Victoria's golden jubilee (AF).

Dolton stoneware, originating in England during the early 19th century, is known for its durable and practical pottery. Established by the Dolton family, the pottery became famous for its functional kitchenware and distinctive glazes. Over time, Dolton stoneware evolved, blending traditional craftsmanship with innovative designs, influencing British ceramics.