A 19th century carved wooden provincial bowl.

Wooden bowls have a rich history dating back thousands of years. Early humans used wood for its durability and ease of carving, creating bowls for eating, storage, and ceremonial purposes. Ancient cultures, from the Egyptians to the Native Americans, crafted intricately designed wooden bowls, often using local wood types and traditional techniques.

Over time, wood turning technology improved, leading to more refined and ornate bowls. Today, wooden bowls continue to be valued for their craftsmanship and natural beauty.
