

Art Deco paste fringe necklace

Sold

Description

A 1930s silver Art Deco paste fringe necklace with brilliant and baguette cut stones.

Fringe necklaces are stylish statement pieces featuring multiple strands or dangling elements that create a cascading, layered effect. Typically made from materials like beads, chains, fabric, or leather, fringe necklaces add movement and texture to an outfit. They range from bohemian and tribal-inspired designs to more elegant and modern interpretations. The playful yet bold style of fringe necklaces makes them versatile, suitable for both casual and formal wear, enhancing outfits with a touch of drama and flair.
