

Chinese blue and white porcelain tea pot

£285

REF: 5712

Height: 10 cm (3.9")

Diameter: 13 cm (5.1")

Description

A Chinese blue and white porcelain tea pot with metal handle, first half of the 19th century.

Chinese blue and white porcelain, known for its vibrant cobalt blue designs on a white background, emerged during the Tang dynasty and flourished in the Ming and Qing dynasties. Highly prized for its intricate patterns and fine craftsmanship, this porcelain became a symbol of Chinese artistry, influencing global ceramic traditions.