Description

An ornate Persian repoussé and engraved silver trinket box circa 1900

Persian silver has a rich history dating back thousands of years, admired for its intricate craftsmanship and artistic beauty. Persian silversmiths mastered techniques such as repoussé, engraving, and filigree, creating ornate trays, bowls, jewellery, and decorative objects. Many pieces feature traditional motifs like floral patterns, calligraphy, and mythological figures.

During the Safavid and Qajar periods, Persian silver flourished, becoming highly sought after. Today, antique Persian silver remains a prized collectible, reflecting Persia's artistic legacy.
